Capital Calligraphers – Salem, Oregon

Shows

The All Oregon Calligraphers Conference is progressing well. The committee members are gearing up for registration that will open in August. Summer is a good time to create some calligraphic items to sell at the Scribe's Table. Becky and Bonnie will be happy to receive your creations. Table decorations are being woven on June 5 at a work party at Trish Hibler's home. Contact her if you're able to attend. If you haven't created your 6x6 piece(s) for the table decorations, they will be accepted up until September, so there's another summer project. We will again have the beautiful envelope exhibit at the conference as well as the 6x6 exhibit (not to be confused with the 6x6 pieces for the table decorations). Be thinking of creative ways to showcase our theme "Create."

The Oregon State Fair (Aug. 23 to Sept. 2 – Find Your Fun!) started accepting entries online for the calligraphy exhibit on May 15. New this year is a separate exhibit with an Oregon theme. We will accept (only this year) the pieces you created for our 40th anniversary celebration. There will be a $100 award in the calligraphy category for the winner.

The theme for the exhibit at the Salem Public Library in November is "Winter." More details will be forthcoming.

Have a fun and creative summer!

Programs

Prindi Flug will present design and layout ideas for our 6"x6" pieces AOCC centerpieces. The theme is "Create". Bring your favorite writing tool(s), colors mediums (red, white, black, gold), and practice paper. We will have some quality paper available if you would like to create a finished product.

Come & enjoy the last meeting before our summer break. We are having a finger food potluck starting at 6 pm..

Remember the AOCC conference sponsored and organized by us, Capital Calligraphers, so put October 12 on your calendar. Carrie Imai, our keynote speaker will be giving a 2 day workshop, Sun. and Mon., October 13-14 at Capital Manor. She will be giving an inspiring workshop on "Art for Non-artists". Stay tuned to the website and AOCC registration this summer for the details.

We will be having a summer get together at Lori Festa's home. She has the perfect place to be outside and use messy products to make glorious art, Saturday, August 3 from 9-2. Bring a salad to share for lunch. Email Lori for address.
